There's a dangerous road ahead. Are you sure you are prepared?

In the last year, we have seen dramatic and unprecedented changes in our government and our society as a whole. These legal and cultural shifts have effectively transformed the workplace; creating new and daunting HR challenges associated with legal compliance as well as effective workforce management.

Faced with such broad changes, CEOs, operations managers, HR managers, frontline supervisors, etc., have a steep learning curve ahead of them. And, there's little time to get up to speed on these issues.

Plan on attending the Printing Industries Alliance 2018 Human Resources Conference at Turning Stone Resort Casino on May 3 and 4, 2018, to learn how to survive and even thrive in this new era. The "Turning Stone Conference" has been presented annually for more than a decade and has been hailed by participants as being THE preeminent HR and employment law education conference, bar none.

Unlike other conferences, this one is designed to provide you with a real, no nonsense opportunity to work with experienced employment law attorneys as well as other experts to understand the changes and how best to adjust your approach to the most difficult HR issues facing your organization today.

The "Solutions" Conference

Here's what past participants have had to say about the Human Resources Conference

- "I was told by many that this was/is one of the best HR conferences there is – I agree! I have been to many."
- "This conference is a class act ... excellent speakers, very informative topics and ability to network was fantastic."
- "This is my favorite training program and I look forward to it every year. I value the information and it's extremely relevant to day to day work challenges."
- "Great program. All the presenters were knowledgeable and engaging. Looking forward to attending again next year."
- "Extremely helpful to put the regulations into day to day scenarios."

PROGRAM

DAY ONE – MAY 3, 2018 | 8:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.

Continental Breakfast, Refreshment Breaks and Lunch Provided

☐ Essential Employment Law Updates

Nicholas J. Fiorenza, Esq., Ferrara Fiorenza PC

It's easy to get overwhelmed with trying to keep up with all the new and changing employment laws. You will learn practical, easy-to-follow ways to comply with recent changes in employment law, as well as upcoming changes for which you will need to begin preparing. This portion of the Conference will cover such wide-ranging topics as:

- Roll Back of Certain Wage and Hour Regulations – What's Old is New Again
- Stunning Changes at National Labor Relations Board Affecting All Employers
- Impact of "Weinstein Effect" on Workplace Harassment
- Call-In Pay and Scheduling Regulations Restricting Employers' Flexibility
- Paid Family Leave
- And much more ...

☐ Surviving Department of Labor Audits

Michael L. Dodd, Esq., Ferrara Fiorenza PC

During the Obama administration, the U.S. Department of Labor beefed-up its enforcement efforts by adding hundreds of new field investigators. While the new administration has projected budget cutbacks and rule changes, the Department remains very active, targeting employers who: (1) fail to properly pay minimum wage or overtime; (2) misclassify employees as exempt under the FLSA; or (3) misclassify employees as independent contractors. The presenters will take you through detailed case studies of audits they have defended so that you can learn what to do and what not to do when your organizations are being audited.

☐ Comprehensive (and Legal) Strategies to Finally Solve Employee Attendance Problems: FMLA, ADA and Beyond

Michael L. Dodd, Esq., Ferrara Fiorenza PC

Regardless of whether your organization is subject to the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA), all employers must guard against violating federal and state laws that shield employees from disciplinary action for not coming to work. This portion of the program will be dedicated to helping you develop your organization's strategies for controlling absenteeism.

DAY TWO – MAY 4, 2018 | 8:00 a.m. - 2:00 p.m.

Continental Breakfast, Refreshment Breaks and Lunch Provided

☐ Impact of Legal and Illegal Drugs in Your Workplace — Marijuana, Opioids, and more!

Adriane Harrison, Director of Human Relations, Printing Industries of America

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the number of workers dying from drug or alcohol-related causes while on the job has been growing by at least 25 percent each year since 2012. Prime-age workers are dropping out of the labor-force at staggering levels in U.S. counties where opioid prescriptions are the most plentiful, leaving many employers in those areas struggling to fill vacant jobs. How do you deal with employees who test positive in this new era of legalized medical marijuana and decriminalized recreational use? Come learn best practices for handling legal and illegal drug use in your workplace.

☐ How to Identify, Investigate and Respond to Workplace Drug/Alcohol Issues

John Femia, G4S (Multi-National Security Services)

In this not-to-be-missed session, a private investigator who has coordinated and executed workplace investigations into drug sales in the workplace, substance abuse by workers and other drug/alcohol-related employee misconduct will provide you with an inside look at how the professionals conduct investigations. Learn important skills and techniques that you can implement in your organization to address substance use in your facilities (as well as other forms of employee misconduct) for the best outcomes.

☐ Panel Discussion—Managing the Workplace and Employee Drug Use

Join our expert presenters and participants as we discuss real life situations and solutions!

☐ Workplace Culture: Leveraging Conative Theory

Noelle Murphy, VP & Manager of Client Experience, Gilroy, Kernan & Gilroy

Every individual has innate behavioral modes of action when confronted with a problem or working towards a goal; this is known as the "conative" aspect of the mind. Many employers, however, fail to understand and leverage these traits when building teams, resulting in disappointment, frustration, and conflict. This interactive session will provide an overview of conative traits, tools to identify these traits, and examples of strategies employers can use to leverage these strengths throughout their organization.
